WE SUPPORT

National Literacy Trust

“Themed collections of books are a great way to get children reading books that are specifically tailored to their needs, skills and interests. Teachers and librarians can easily select the right variety of books to entice challenging groups of pupils, such as reluctant readers, to pick up a book and start enjoying it. Reading for pleasure helps children to develop the vital literacy skills they need to fulfil their potential.” Please visit us at www.literacytrust.org.uk

Catch Up Literacy is a structured intervention for learners who find reading difficult. It has been proven to be an effective tool which can significantly help struggling readers in just 10 – 15 minutes a week.

School libraries make a difference

The SLA, in conjunction with several partners, is launching a School Library Charter to help schools establish a new library, or to improve the provision in existing libraries. The Charter will be sent to all primary schools and will emphasize how a good school library can impact on pupils' achievement and motivation. The aim is to make it as easy as possible for schools to set up an attractive, useful and integrated school library which is accessible to all.
